CCH Thanks ARCC Steering Committee Members for their Service

The Center for Community Health (CCH) would like to acknowledge the contributions and hard work of a group of CCH's Alliance for Research in Chicagoland Communities (ARCC) Steering Committee Members who are departing from the Committee this summer. All of ARCC's work is guided by the Steering Committee, comprised of community- and faith-based organizations, public agencies, and Northwestern academic partners. Many of the departing members are long standing partners who have helped to develop and build ARCC from its' beginning in 2008. ARCC would not be where it is today without the input of these dedicated individuals and organizations. Thank you!
