Greetings to All Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine Alumni:

We invite you to join the Alumni Relations team, the Medical Alumni Association, and medical school leadership, along with your friends and classmates, on the medical campus this spring for Alumni Weekend 2019 (April 26–27).

If you have attended Alumni Weekend before, but not for a few years, we have added some new events—networking opportunities, lectures, Chicago tours, and more. If you have never attended Alumni Weekend, make this your time to start—especially if it is your reunion year.

Of course, for most alumni, the best part of returning to campus for Alumni Weekend is reconnecting with old friends and classmates. There is ample opportunity to do just that throughout the weekend, with many occasions to share laughs and memories and even network professionally with one another. The All Alumni Celebration and Dinner on Friday night and Reunion Class Dinners on Saturday night are two touchstone events designed with reconnecting and reminiscing in mind.

In addition, there are plenty of opportunities to learn. Take full advantage of presentations by our renowned faculty and earn AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. The continuing medical education sessions kick off Friday morning. There also will be in-depth tours of the hospitals and several laboratories, along with mentoring sessions.

Registering ONLINE is easy at feinberg.northwestern.edu/alumni/alumni-weekend. The names of registrants will be noted on the site so that you can see who else is coming, and so that your friends will know you will be here!

We hope to see you on campus in April. Keep in touch, and please do not hesitate to contact the Alumni Relations team with questions about the weekend or anything else related to your experience as an alumnus/a of the medical school. Call or email—312-503-8012 or medalum@northwestern.edu with questions.

Building Tour
Louis A. Simpson and Kimberly K. Querrey Biomedical Research Center
The Louis A. Simpson and Kimberly K. Querrey Biomedical Research Center will provide critical space for scientists researching cancer, heart disease, neurodegenerative disorders, diabetes, and other critical areas of study. After an extensive international search and competition, Northwestern University selected the Chicago architectural firm of Perkins+Will to design the center.

The Perkins+Will design features a curved glass exterior with flexible floor plans for laboratories. The tower profile references and updates the soaring traditional Gothic buildings on Northwestern’s Chicago campus, presenting a striking profile on the city’s skyline and leading the way for future campus development.

The design concept aligns with a vision of the Simpson Querrey Biomedical Research Center as a strong connector at the core of a world-class academic medical district and research campus composed of Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine, Northwestern Medicine, and the Stanley Manne Children’s Research Institute, the research arm of the Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children’s Hospital of Chicago.

Hidden Truths: Chicago City Cemetery and Lincoln Park Tour

This tour features the Lincoln Park grounds that were once the Chicago City Cemetery. From 1845 through 1859, it was Chicago’s only cemetery. Bannos launched her “Hidden Truths: Chicago City Cemetery and Lincoln Park” project in 2008. It consists of a 100+ page website hiddentruths.northwestern.edu and an installation of historical markers in the park. We will tour the park, stopping at the historical markers, to learn of the history of these grounds. Pamela Bannos is a professor of instruction in the Department of Art Theory and Practice at Northwestern University.

The tour will include about a mile of walking through Lincoln Park. A bus will transport alumni and guests from campus to Clark Street and North Avenue, and back to campus after the tour.
