Our community of Half Century Club members from all classes
(Alumni who graduated 50+ years ago)

Everyone is welcome at all Alumni Weekend events.

Greetings From Your Medical Alumni Association:

We can't wait to welcome our reunion classes, Half Century Club members, and ALL alumni back to campus for Alumni Weekend 2026, taking place May 1–2! Join your classmates and friends, the Alumni Relations team, the Medical Alumni Association, and medical school leadership for a memorable spring weekend in Chicago.

Each year, alumni return to campus to relive memories, catch up with friends, and make new connections. From reconnecting over coffee to gathering at signature events like Friday's Celebrate in Chicago (our all-alumni celebration and dinner) and Saturday's Class Dinners, the weekend is designed to inspire meaningful moments and lasting memories.

You'll also have the chance to engage in thought-provoking sessions led by our esteemed faculty and earn AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]. Continuing medical education sessions begin bright and early on Friday morning.

Registering ONLINE is easy! Visit feinberg.northwestern.edu/alumni-weekend. Let your friends know that you're coming and encourage them to join you!

Registration opens January 5, 2026.

We can't wait to welcome you back to campus in May. Feel free to reach out anytime with questions, whether about Alumni Weekend or anything else related to your experience as an alum of the medical school. Contact us at 312-503-8012 or email medalum@northwestern.edu.

We look forward to celebrating with you in Chicago!

New Developments in the Treatment of Cancer

with Leonidas Platanius, MD, PhD, director of the Robert H. Lurie Comprehensive Cancer Center of Northwestern University; the Jesse, Sara, Andrew, Abigail, Benjamin, and Elizabeth Lurie Professor of Oncology; professor of Medicine and Biochemistry and Molecular Genetics; and associate vice president for Cancer Programs in Northwestern's Office for Research

Campus Tour

Louis A. Simpson and Kimberly K. Querrey Biomedical Research Center Tour

The Simpson Querrey Biomedical Research Center provides critical space for scientists studying cancer, heart disease, neurodegenerative disorders, diabetes, and other priority areas. Its design features a curved glass exterior with flexible floor plans for laboratories. The tower profile references and updates the soaring traditional Gothic buildings on Northwestern's Chicago campus, presenting a striking profile on the city's skyline and leading the way for future campus development. The design concept aligns with a vision of the Simpson Querrey Biomedical Research Center as a strong connector at the core of a world-class academic medical district and research campus composed of Feinberg, Northwestern Medicine, the Shirley Ryan AbilityLab, and the Stanley Manne Children's Research Institute—the research arm of Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago.

with Michael D. Ellis, PT, DPT, professor and associate chair of Translational Research in the Departments of Physical Therapy and Human Movement Sciences and Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, and director of Translational Rehabilitation Research

9:00–10:00 am

AW ForumHave Coffee and Conversations with the Half Century Club featuring The History of Abbott Hall

Our Have Coffee and Conversations series is a unique opportunity for you to reconnect with fellow alumni, share your experiences, and enjoy meaningful conversations in a relaxed setting. Our special topic for Alumni Weekend is The History of Abbott Hall.

Rural Vermont was the birthplace of physician Wallace Calvin Abbott and his wife, Clara. A graduate of the University of Michigan Medical School, he and Clara moved to Chicago in 1886 so that he could practice medicine on the Near North Side. He began manufacturing pharmaceuticals in the kitchen of their two-room apartment. Although he became quite wealthy in this business, his love was practicing medicine and making house calls on his bicycle. He and Clara died in the 1920s. The Clara Abbott Foundation provided funding for the construction of Abbott Hall, believed to be the tallest building in the world, serving solely as a student dormitory when it opened in 1940. Through the years, it has served as student housing, barracks for the training of Navy officers, and administrative offices. Join us to learn more about our historic and beloved Abbott Hall.

While the Half Century Club celebrates our 50+ year alumni, we invite ALL alumni and guests to join us for this forum, led by Joseph Gugenheim, '72 MD.

10:15–11:30 am

AW ForumMusic and Medicine featuring the Northwestern Medical Orchestra*

Enjoy a discussion of Northwestern's Music and Medicine Program founded in May 2021 by Borna Bonakdarpour, MD, associate professor of Neurology in the Division of Behavioral Neurology, and violist and music practitioner Clara Takarabe. This program brings clinically-oriented music to patients, investigates the efficacy of interventions and their mechanisms of action, and educates the public and trainees. For more information on Dr. Bonakdarpour's work, visit bornacogneurology.com.

This forum will consist of a short talk, Q&A, and performances by chamber musicians from our Northwestern Medical Orchestra (NMO). The NMO was launched in the spring of 2018 by first-year medical students to provide an instrumental musical experience for members of the Northwestern medical community in downtown Chicago. The group now has 100+ members and holds several concerts every year. To learn more about the NMO, please visit sites.northwestern.edu/nmorchestra. A light reception will follow the forum.

Transforming Medicine: Physicians Leading Change across Healthcare

In an era of rapid advancements and evolving landscapes, physicians are finding new ways to challenge the status quo and drive positive change. Join us as we explore the diverse roles physicians play in transforming healthcare. From developing groundbreaking medical technologies and founding successful startups to leveraging novel platforms and identifying new therapeutic targets, panelists will share their personal experiences and insights on how they see opportunities for physicians looking to make an impact beyond traditional roles in medicine. This thought-provoking discussion will cover topics such as physician entrepreneurship, digital health revolution, policy change, and challenges and opportunities. Don't miss your chance to hear from inspiring physicians who are at the forefront of healthcare innovation.

5:00–7:00 pm

The Founders Society Reception

By invitation. This annual event celebrates and honors members of The Founders Society, our giving society comprised of alumni, faculty, staff, and friends who have made leadership-level philanthropic contributions during our current and previous fiscal years, as well as individuals who provided significant volunteer service to the school during that time. Please visit feinberg.northwestern.edu/tfs or email Sarah Kalsbeek at s-kalsbeek@northwestern.edu for more information on joining The Founders Society. Our fiscal year runs from September 1 to August 31.
