Alliance for Research in Chicagoland Communities

5th Annual Community-Engaged Research Partnership Award

Reducing Cancer Health Disparities Among Chicago-area Latinos/Latinas

This award honors the exemplary partnership between Judy Guitelman and her team at ALAS-WINGS and David Victorson and his team at Northwestern University. It began four years ago through a pilot project within a National Institutes of Health (NIH)-funded grant which sought to identify unmet support needs of limited-English speaking Latinas with breast cancer and determine whether mobile health solutions (mHealth) existed to meet these needs.
