Discover, Discuss, Collaborate: An Informatics and Data Science Collaborative Event

Wednesday, July 23

2:30 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

SQBRC Potocsnak Family Atrium
303 E Superior St, Chicago, IL 60611

You're invited to join the newly formed NUCATS and I.AIM Informatics and Data Science Collaborative for an afternoon of discovery, discussion, and collaboration. Hear brief opening remarks that highlight exciting informatics and data science work at Northwestern, participate in interactive conversations, and check out posters from colleagues across campus. Snacks will be provided.

Poster session

Submit an abstract to be included in the poster session!
Early-career researchers and students, as well as experienced investigators, are encouraged to apply.
Previously published posters are welcome.

The deadline to submit a poster abstract is July 1.

Share your expertise. Learn something new. Connect with colleagues.
